YUGOSLAVIAN ADHERENCE TO TRADE UNION CONSIDERED THREAT TO FRANCE

WOULD END "LITTLE ENTENTE"; HAILED AS GERMAN VICTORY

French Political Structure Menaced By Latest Move

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS
BERLIN, April 23. — Heralding the break-up of the Little Entente and menacing France's carefully built up European structure, Yugoslavia is seriously considering adherence to the proposed customs union between Austria and Germany, it was learned by International News Service here today.

Information received from reliable diplomatic sources indicated active preparations were being made by the Yugoslavian government to signify its willingness to participate in the pact.

Such action would be a radical departure from the code of international relationships in Europe prevailing from the time of the signing of the treaty of Versailles, as a defense against aggression, as Germany in its unceasing campaign against the so-called "French Hegemony."

Since the conclusion of the war, Yugoslavia has been an integral part of the "French structure" of Europe. Together with Czechoslovakia and Roumania, it is a member of the little entente of nations, a bloc designated for protection against Magyar aggression, as a defense against Bolshevik aggression and for promotion of trade along the Danube.

This treaty, originally created soon after the war, was renewed in 1929. Five years previously France and Czechoslovakia signed a treaty "to safeguard their common interests in case they are threatened."

Reliable diplomatic sources in Berlin predicted that if Yugoslavia decided to join the customs union, other small nations of central Europe would be likely to follow suit to protect themselves and reap the benefits resulting from lowering of tariff barriers and trade exchange agreements.

While admittedly a startling procedure in view of existing treaties and traditional relationships, German circles were inclined to the view that Yugoslavia's adherence could be construed as a "logical development" in view of the serious trade and agricultural depression which has hung over central Europe for years.

When the Austro-German pact was first announced, an invitation was extended to all nations to participate. In particular, it was expected the nations suffering from the effects of huge agricultural surpluses, which include Yugoslavia, would look with favor upon a practical means of solving their economic trouble by international agreement.

In connection with the report, a cryptic statement made by Count Bethlen, premier of Hungary, in a recent party speech was recalled here.

"Europe," he said, "is on the eve of a new political and economic organization and era of justice. 'Keep your powder dry.'"

Belmont officers accused in report

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—Charges of misconduct and illegal actions on the part of public officials and others in Belmont County and involving the alleged mis-handling of amounts totaling $17,584 were revealed here today in a report made public by State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy.

The allegations contained in the report jabbed at the very root of Belmont County's township and justice courts for the period from October 1927 to January last, which has just recently undergone a minute investigation by State Examiner H. H. Hastings.

Various officials and other individuals of Belmont County, Hastings charged in his report, owe $17,584.50.

PRESIDENT OF BANK COMMITS SUICIDE

WHEELING, W. Va., April 23.—A suicide verdict was returned here today by Coroner Walter Morrison in connection with the death of Harry Scheufler, 55, president of the Center Wheeling Savings Bank.

Scheufler's body was found in the laundry in his home with a bullet through the heart. Ill health was given as the cause of his act. The banker had planned to enter Baltimore Hospital this week for treatment, it was said.

VICTIM OF CEMETERY HANGING LINKED WITH MURDER OF GIRL

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Discovery of a similar hanging near here made this city today the center of a search for a possible solution to the death of Louise Teuber, 17, whose unclad body was found hanging from a tree on the outskirts of San Diego last Sunday night.

In a cemetery ten miles south of here, the body of John Porcellano, 40, a spiritualist, was found hanging from a tree under circumstances closely resembling the girl's mode of death.

A woman deputy coroner, Mrs. Luella D. Pepper, said Porcellano had committed suicide apparently by stepping from a box after he attached a rope to his neck and slung the other end over the branch of a tree.

The "sailor's knot," which figured in the hanging of Miss Teuber, also figures in the man's hanging, Mrs. Pepper reported.

The other end of the noose was tied about the tree with half hitches similar to the San Diego case, Mrs. Pepper added.

Mrs. Pepper was struck by one observation in view of the fact that human flesh had been found under the dead girl's fingernails. On the face of the man, she reported, were numerous scratches and gouges as though made by fingernails. Similar marks were noticed on the hands.

Southern California police in the meantime today announced that blood clots on the neck of the dead girl indicated that she may have been alive but unconscious while suspended from the tree.

From the sheriff's office came the intimation that poison or some other clue had been uncovered by the chemists.

Disbarment proceedings have been filed at Youngstown, O., against Common Pleas Judge David Jenkins, above, who recently handed down a decision enjoining the proposed billion-dollar merger of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, and one other judge.

The petitions, filed by Prosecutor Ray L. Thomas, charge Jenkins received money from a Youngstown utility company to pay the expenses of himself and wife on a vacation trip to New Orleans in 1928, Judge Jenkins has denied the charge.

TREASURY OPENING PUBLIC WORK BIDS TO SPEED BUILDING

Architects Protest Policy On Federal Building Plans

WASHINGTON, April 23.—In the drive to get the maximum volume of public building underway in the minimum time, the treasury department today completed the opening of bids for sites on post offices and other federal structures so far authorized by congress.

During the last week several hundred projects have been placed in the preliminary stages through receipt of bids on sites. The bids will be examined carefully and within the next thirty days a corps of site engineers will make inspections in many cities and towns throughout the country.

It was expected that within sixty days bids on some of the projects may be advertised. There is much red tape involved in selection of sites and the acquisition of title to the property by the department of justice.

In connection with the government's enormous building program the American Institute of Architects, has launched a movement against the "bureaucratic" control of public buildings. The institute urged the federal building program as well as the programs of cities and states be carried out by private architects.

Treasury officials said that virtually all of the important building projects have been or will be designed by private architects. They pointed to large structures in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities to prove their contention.

The institute charged that inferior architecture, unfair to the people, will result from the government's present policy of "carrying out to effect the greatest national building program the world has ever known."

LADY HEATH BLAMES RAIN Drank Only Two Beers And Small Whiskey She Says After Paying Fine

WINDSOR, Ont., April 23.—Reiterating that she was not intoxicated as charged by police, Lady Heath, internationally known aviatrix, today prepared to resume her speaking engagements.

As far as the divorced wife of Sir James Heath, millionaire iron master, was concerned, yesterday's happening was all a mistake.

Lady Heath was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Brody yesterday following her arrest after her car figured in a traffic jam here.

The daring woman who recently flew over 11,000 miles of water and jungle explained today that the penalty inflicted in a magistrate's court was a mere formality to clear the court docket.

The boy whose model plane is judged to be the best will win an airplane trip to Washington where he will be presented to President Hoover.

BLAMES FLAT FEET FOR BAD MORALS CUMBERLAND, Md., April 23.—Many policemen developed flat feet from pounding sidewalks in their efforts to keep folk on the straight and narrow path. And their ability and morals are unquestioned.

But when the same defect afflicts some girls they immediately become incorrigible, Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith, superintendent of the Montrose School for Girls, Reisterstown, Md., told the Maryland State Conference of Social Work.

"I have never yet visited an institution where this defect was seriously considered and yet wonder why our girls are lazy and will not stick to the jobs they have assigned to them," Dr. Smith said.

"Standing in a laundry all day or rendering efficient service as a domestic forces a girl with fallen arches into a physical ordeal that very few have the endurance to meet."

DOCTOR STILL LOST

SIX SUSPECTS ARRESTED; NO RANSOM ASKED

Witness To Kidnaping Found; Phone Call Believed Fake

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 23.—Six suspects were being held today in the apparent kidnaping of Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, wealthy doctor and clubman, mysteriously missing from his home since last Monday.

Meanwhile, the wife of the doctor, who was ostensibly lured from his home by a fake call for professional service, reported she had received no demand for ransom.

RUSSIA MENACED BY FLOODS FOLLOWING SERIOUS RAINFALL

Moscow Threatened; Many Homeless As Rivers Rise

MOSCOW, April 23.—The central section of Moscow was threatened today by unprecedented floods which already have rendered thousands of persons homeless at Minsk, one of the largest cities of the Soviet Union.

Some streets in the central district of the capital were under water by noon and boats were being held in readiness to rescue marooned foreign residents. Four small boats equipped with oarsmen were standing by to take the British embassy staff to "dry land" if the waters continue to rise, while three boats were stationed outside the International News Service Bureau.

The floods were caused by torrential rains. The Moskva River was rising steadily, inundating the outskirts of Moscow to a considerable depth, despite the efforts of authorities to stem the tide by throwing up bulwarks along the river's edge.

The situation at Minsk was reported extremely serious. The entire city was without light, the floods having short-circuited electric power, and water mains were broken, depriving the municipality of its regular water supply.

Hundreds of homes were completely inundated by the rising waters. Residents fled to higher ground on the outskirts, taking their valuables along with them.

Fears were felt that the Central Bakery, a government-operated concern, would be rendered useless. The bakery is one of the chief sources of the city's food supply.

The flood played havoc with power houses and mechanical plants. The pressrooms of all the newspapers were crippled, and not a single one was able to publish today.

BREAKS SPEED MARK FOR LONDON-PARIS AIRPLANE TRAVEL

Amazed Europe With Flight To Rome, But Forced Down

HESTON AIRPORT, London, April 23.—Demonstrating an American's definition of fast travel, Captain Frank M. Hawks, forced down on the last lap of his expected record-breaking flight from London to Rome and back, landed here one hour and two minutes after hopping off from Paris.

At 10:34 a. m. he took off over a plowed field from Glen, 100 miles south of Paris. Thirty-three minutes later he landed on Le Bourget Airfield, and at 11:15 a. m. was off for London.

He landed here at 12:53 a. m., covering the 229 miles separating Paris from London in two minutes more than an hour.

The flight from Paris to London today was faster than any man had ever made the trip before. It was another speed record added to Hawk's already impressive list.

When Hawks set his low-winged monoplane down on the London flying field he completed his round trip flight to Rome and return. He had planned to make the entire journey between breakfast and sunset yesterday, but his hopes were dashed by exhaustion of his fuel supply owing to headwinds encountered on the return trip.

PARIS, April 23.—Paying but a brief visit to Le Bourget Airfield on his return dash to London after being forced down 100 miles south of here enroute from Rome, Captain Frank M. Hawks hopped off for Heston Airfield, England, at 11:50 a. m. today.

Hawks' feat in flying from London to Rome in five and one-half hours yesterday astounded all Europe, particularly in view of the fact that the flight was accomplished in the face of driving wind and rain. He beat the previous record for London-to-Rome set by Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith by seven hours and ten minutes.

KING WILL DIE SURE APRIL 30

Barber's Conviction Is Sustained

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—Charles King, Hamilton barber, today faces certain death in the electric chair April 30 for the murder of his wife and four children unless Governor George White intervenes.

By overruling his motion for leave to file a petition in error, the Ohio supreme court upheld the verdict of Butler County courts which found him guilty and sentenced him to death.

King was actually convicted only of the murder of his son, Robert, although his wife and three children also were found to have died from asphyxiation. It was charged that King turned on the gas, causing their deaths.

King, missing when the bodies were found, was not located until a year later.

Before the supreme court, attorneys for King argued that his wife was a drug addict and that she might have turned on the gas.

BRITISH LAW FALLS ON EDDIE GUERIN

LONDON, April 23.—British law dealt severely today with Eddie Guerin, spectacular international underworld figure of twenty years ago, when it found him guilty of all counts and imposed sentence of three years penal servitude in old Bailey Prison.

Arrested in west end London several weeks ago, the criminal pleaded not guilty to vigorous charges against him, including theft and forgery. He was granted two hearings.

TRIAL OVERRULED;
TWO GET DIVORCES;
OTHER COURT NEWS

Demand of the plaintiff for a new trial has been overruled by Judge R. L. Gowdy in the breach of promise case of Miss Irma Johnson, Dayton, against Howard Faulkner in Common Pleas Court. A jury recently denied the plaintiff damages.

DIVORCES GIVEN TWO

Pauline Toll has been granted a divorce from Ollie Telle in Common Pleas Court and was awarded custody of their minor children.

On grounds of gross neglect of duty Irene Keble has won a divorce from William Emmitt Keble. The plaintiff was granted custody of their minor child, Geraldine, with the father retaining the right to visit his daughter at reasonable times. If the parties to the action are unable to agree as to the amount the defendant shall pay toward support of the child this matter will be referred to Juvenile Court for determination, the court ruled.

MODIFY INJUNCTION

In the injunction suit filed by George Koeber, Beaver Creek, Wm., against John Bigler, a neighbor, in Common Pleas Court, an entry on file discloses the defendant has been permitted by the court to install new tile in an excavation made to connect with a drain along the Dayton-Xenia Pike and to fill in the ditch, placing it in the same condition as before. The existing temporary injunction, however, is to remain in full force with respect to any further digging, trespassing or other interference with the plaintiff's property which is abutting on the highway.

NOTE JUDGMENTS

A. E. Smith has been awarded a note judgment amounting to $3,288 in a suit in Common Pleas Court which named Sarah B. Padlock and Margaret A. Bebout as defendants.

John T. Harbine, Jr., has recovered a note judgment for $346 against Oliver F. Eavers and Opal Eavers in Common Pleas Court.

FIVE SENT TO CHAIR
WITHIN SIX MONTHS

BUOYRUS, O., April 23.—Within the last six months Crawford County has convicted five men of first degree murder at a cost of $7,646.11.

Clerk of Courts Carl Young revealed today that the trials of Fred Massa, Earl Sites and Kenneth McCartney, executed January 20 for the murder of Ralph Wilcox, Gallatin, filling station attendant, during a holdup, cost $3,839.01 and the trials of Walter and Blanton Ralls, convicted of the murder of Sheriff George Davenport, cost $3,878.10.

In all five cases the county was required to provide legal counsel for the defendants who pleaded in delinquency. The Ralls men, twice deposed new trials, will probably enter "death row" at Ohio penitentiary this week.

They have been held in the county jail for more than a month since their conviction while their attorneys exhausted every legal effort to get them new trials. They have an appeal pending in the court of appeals at the county's expense.

GAME REFUGE SIZE
HAS BEEN DOUBLED

ST. MARYS, O., April 23.—Size of the Lake Marys game refuge has been doubled, increasing the tract to 500 acres, by recent action of the state division of conservation.

Almost 250 acres of farm and brush land belonging to K. E. Mitchell which is situated on the southwest corner of the Lake has been leased for three years by order of Conservation Commissioner J. W. Thompson.

In addition 100 acres of marsh land in the same region has been leased for fish spawning ground.

Completion of negotiations was promptly followed by an order from the conservation division prohibiting hunting or fishing in any part of the new sanctuary land.

Additional ducks, geese, pheasants and racoons will be purchased by the department and placed in the preserve according to Thompson.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't fix it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, lathers up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Brown's substitute.

EPISCOPAL GUILD MEETS ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. C. H. Little and Miss Helen Little were named delegates to a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church at a meeting of St. Agnes Guild of Christ Episcopal Church at the home of Mrs. Louise Sandoe, N. Detroit St., Wednesday afternoon. The auxiliary convention will be held at Trinity Church, Columbus, May 13 and 14.

Plans were discussed for a meeting of the Dayton convocation in Xenia in October. Mrs. W. Crawford Craig read an interesting paper, "New Interest in India" and an informal discussion followed. Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Annie B. Horen.

Later a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Sandoe.

FAMOUS BOY SOLOIST TO BE IN SPRINGFIELD

Thomas Garvey, eleven-year-old soloist, will appear at St. Mary's Festival in Springfield Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, it is announced. The boy singer has been heard over the radio from the Shrine of the Little Flower in Detroit and his appearance in Springfield is being looked forward to with interest.

The festival is being held in connection with the tenth anniversary of the founding of St. Mary's parish and the public is invited to attend the three night's activities.

The Women's Missionary Society of the First U. P. Church will meet in the church parlors Friday at 2 p. m. and will have as its guests the Women's Missionary Societies of the Presbyterian Church and the Second U. P. Church. Miss Agnes Ballantyne, returned missionary from India, will be guest speaker.

The Pocahontas and Redmen's Lodges are sponsoring a dance at the Redmen's Hall, W. Main St., Friday evening. The public is invited.

Mrs. Grace M. Brannen, E. Second St., has returned home after spending several days in Hillsboro as the guest of Col. and Mrs. J. P. Elton and Mr. O. A. Moorehead and family.

The J. F. F. Club will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Wiley McCoy, New Jasper Pike, Friday evening. Each family is asked to bring meat sandwiches.

Mrs. William F. Long Jr. and infant son, Douglas Lee, were removed to their home on W. Second St., Wednesday evening from McClellan Hospital.

The Dorcas Sunday School Class of the First M. E. Church will meet with Miss Pauline Bottorff, N. King St., Friday evening. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Helen Louis, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Sanders, Springfield Pike, is ill with the mumps.

Mrs. Monroe Bloch (Trina Stiles), Cincinnati, underwent a serious operation at McClellan Hospital Tuesday. She is reported to be recovering favorably.

Miss Margaret Weiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Weiss, W. Market St., who underwent a serious operation at Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, Tuesday is reported to be in a favorable condition.

Mrs. Fred Baldner, E. Church St., is spending several days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Loudonback, near Westville, O.

Mrs. Carrie Dodds Geyer arrived here Tuesday for an indefinite visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Geyer, N. Galway St. Mrs. Geyer came here from Wharton, N. J., where she visited her son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Curtis Geyer.

Trinity M. E. Church choir will meet for rehearsal Friday evening at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Victoria Robertson, E. Main St., underwent a serious operation at McClellan Hospital Thursday morning. Her condition is reported to be favorable following the operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lang, N. Detroit St., are announcing the birth of a son at their home Thursday morning.

GUILD CAST WORKS ON "DOVER ROAD"

Newcomers in Xenia Theater Guild performances will make their appearance in "Dover Road," the third offering of the Guild for this season at the Opera House Thursday evening, April 30. "Dover Road" is a three act comedy by A. A. Milne.

Members of the cast who will make their initial bow to a Guild audience are Mrs. James Adair, Miss Helen Little, Francis Orr, George H. Smith, F. W. Clarke and William Anderson. Minor parts without speaking lines will be played by the Misses Katherine Chew and Eileen Sayre and Andrew Frazer and Robert Kinsey.

Miss Eleanor Kiernan is directing the play which will be open to Guild members only, it is announced.

OPENS STONE PLANT

After being closed down for more than a year, a stone plant at Cedarville, formerly operated by Carter N. Abel, Inc., will be reopened next Monday and operated by the Adam Realty Co., a Columbus firm. It was announced Thursday. The industry will give employment to fifteen men.

Mrs. Ella Nisonger, N. Galloway St., is confined to her home suffering from an attack of the grip.

Mrs. John Young and daughter, Miss Natalie Young, left Thursday morning for their home in Brinkhaven, N. H., after spending three months here with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Clarence Herr, W. Main St., is spending several days in Piqua with her uncle, Mr. Alex. Touchman.

Mrs. Ben Belden, Shoup's Station, formerly of this city, has entered McClellan Hospital for treatment.

MEXICAN YOUTH IS SOUGHT FOR DEATH OF CHILD IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 23.—One of the greatest manhunts in the history of southwest Texas was being conducted by authorities and hundreds of citizens today for a Mexican youth, suspected of attacking 11-year-old Merle Springer and stabbing her to death with a penknife late yesterday near Lemoine, forty miles from here.

The girl's body, only partially clad, was found in a ditch 200 yards from her home late last night by her parents, who instigated a search for her when she failed to return from school. She had been stabbed thirty-three times in the chest with a sharp pointed weapon.

A 17-year-old Mexican farm hand, missing since late yesterday from the farm on which he worked, was sought in connection with the crime. Officers refused to say what evidence linked him with the murder, but they were concentrating their efforts on a hunt for him.

MINISTER TO SPEAK AT XENIA CHURCH

A minister whose extensive itinerary as a foreign missionary in interior Brazil took him over as many as 3,000 miles a year mostly on muleback, forced him to swim unfordable rivers and led him across treacherous swamps until he was finally stricken with malaria fever and ordered home, will relate his experiences in an address at the Presbyterian Church here Friday night, May 1 at 7:30 o'clock.

He is the Rev. Henry J. McCall, of California, a Scotchman, who will also be presented in an address at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, April 29 at the Presbyterian Church in Cedarville.

The Rev. Mr. McCall, having regained his health, has since found an outlet for his missionary zeal in serving 100,000 Portuguese in the state of California, people for whom practically nothing had been done before he became interested in their behalf.

FINGERPRINTS ARE CLEWS TO ROBBERS

Fingerprint clews discovered by police led to the arrest Thursday of three 17-year-old colored boys, two of whom confessed to breaking the glass in a front shop window and stealing three cans of malt syrup from the J. A. Wipert grocery at Church and Williams Sts., Wednesday night.

Police found fingerprints on the glass, photographed them and subsequently rounded up the suspects. The youths, being minors, were turned over to Juvenile Court authorities.

PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY HEAD DIES

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Dr. Francis X. Dercum, president of the American Philosophical Society, dropped dead today soon after the opening of the 26th annual meeting of the society. Renowned scientists from all sections of the country saw Dr. Dercum topple to the floor. He was standing at the chairman's desk when he suddenly collapsed. The annual business session had just concluded and the convention had been thrown open to the public when the tragedy occurred.

Carolina Woman Lost 47 Lbs. In 3 Months and Feels Years Younger

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. I then weighed 217 pounds, was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides.

"Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say.

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, will never cease taking my daily dose and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that is in it." Mrs. S. A. Solomon, New Bern, N. C., Jan. 1930. "P. S. You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter but truly I feel so indebted to you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at druggists the world over. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast. Attention to diet will help—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—the Kruschen way is the safe and sure way to lose weight and if not joyfully satisfied, money back.

EXAMINE CHILDREN FOR EYE DEFECTS

Twelve children of Xenia and Greene County went to Columbus Thursday for an examination by state experts preparatory to the organization of a sight-saving class for children with defective vision in the county. Dr. W. A. Snider, Toledo, president of the state blind commission, was in charge of the examination which was held in the offices of the blind commission.

Plans are being made for a special sight-saving class here providing there is a sufficient number of children in the county with defective eyesight.

Mrs. Pearl Wittenmyer, county health nurse, accompanied the children to Columbus for the examination. Members of the Xenia Rotary Club donated the use of their automobiles for the trip and provided luncheon for the children.

HOME PUPILS ENJOY "CORPORAL EAGEN"

Children of the O. S. and S. O. Home were guests of the American Legion and its auxiliary at the dress rehearsal of the home talent play, "Corporal Eagen" at the Xenia Opera House Wednesday evening. The three act comedy, which is a concoction of clever lines, music and dances, was well received by the children.

The play will be presented to the public Thursday and Friday nights at 8:15 o'clock and indications from the ticket sale show that a well filled house will be present on both evenings.

"Corporal Eagen" is under the direction of Miss Carolyn Sanders of the Universal Producing Co., Fairfield, Ia. Miss Katherine Day is accompanist for the play and Miss Lucille Denham is accompanist for a group of specialty numbers to be presented between acts by local talent.

MRS. MARIA CLINE CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Maria Cline, 69, widow of Fred Cline, died Thursday morning at 6:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. G. McClain, W. Main St., where she had made her home for many years. She had been in failing health a year and had been seriously ill a week suffering from a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Cline was born in Spring Valley September 7, 1861, the daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Bowers Bahl, at home and a brother, Edward Bahl, Dayton.

Funeral services will be held at the McClain home Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call after 6:30 p. m. Friday.

MRS. AMOS EDWARDS DIES WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Eliza Jane Edwards, 38, wife of Amos Edwards, died at her home near Treblein, Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. Death was due to a complication of diseases. She had been in failing health several years and her condition had been serious six months.

Besides her husband Mrs. Edwards is survived by four children: Dorothy, Helen, Mary Margaret and Henry, all at home. Her father, James Smith, near Treblein, also survives besides the following brothers and sisters, Grover and Lee Smith, Mrs. Margaret Ferguson and Mrs. Pearl Benson, near Treblein and Mrs. Mary Jones, near Osborn. Her mother preceded her in death six weeks.

Funeral services will be held at the home Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock and burial will be made in Spring Valley cemetery.

DAMAGE CASE BASED ON AUTO ACCIDENT BEING TRIED HERE

Alleged permanent injuries suffered in an auto collision nearly four years ago are the basis of a $10,000 damage action which was brought to a jury trial in Common Pleas Court Thursday.

The personal injury suit was filed by Hiram Rogers against Maude Warner, the plaintiff claiming an auto driven by the woman's minor son, in which she was a passenger, collided with his car at the intersection of the Federal Pike and the Jamestown-Cedarville Pike, August 1, 1927.

Rogers asserted in his petition that he stopped at the road junction, looked in both directions, and then started on again but that while his machine was still in low gear it was struck by the defendant's auto.

Rogers declared he sustained a neck injury, that his head came in violent contact with the knob of the car door, that all his jaw teeth were shaken loose and that he suffered painful bruises and from shock.

BRITISH AVIATION EXPERT IS KILLED

LONDON, April 23.—Air Vice-Marshal Felton Vesey Holt, an outstanding British aeronautical expert, and his pilot were killed today in a crash between two military planes at Seahurst Park, Sussex.

Death of Holt was a severe blow to the ranks of British air experts, already decimated by the loss of forty-eight lives in the crash of the dirigible R-101 in France last year.

Holt had a distinguished war record, serving from 1914 to 1919 in the Royal Air Force. He was made air commodore in 1925 and recently appointed vice-marshal. He was the son of the late Sir Vesey Holt.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people; and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations. For thy mercy is great above the heavens; and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds.—Psalm cviii, 3, 4.

TOM AND JERRY

"Tom" Walsh of Montana beetles his somber, shaggy brows, and while almost everybody else is thinking about summer and vacation time, avers that a special session of congress "is urgently needed because of grave problems confronting our nation which should be dealt with now." And Gerald Nye of North Dakota glooms beside his colleague and wags his head, and says portentously that "congress should be here to provide means for the federal farm board to function" and to devote "itself to the unemployment problem," which he doesn't look at as optimistically as Mr. Babson does.

This sense of deep responsibility for the welfare of the nation that Tom and Jerry are registering would be all very lovely and touching except for one thing. Both of these gentlemen know perfectly well that if congress should be called together this summer none of the "grave problems" the one talks about, and neither of the subjects the other mentions, would get the least intelligent consideration. The session would be nothing but a political gabfest that would make whatever confusion now exists worse confounded, and would obstruct rather than help along the recovery of the prosperity the nation is striving to acquire—and with some success.

The insistence of Messrs. Walsh and Nye that a special session, which will give them an indefinite reason for staying in Washington, is the only thing, makes a person wonder whether they are afraid to hang about home and meet their constituents.

THE CIGARETTE HABIT

Approximately 120,000,000 cigarettes were sold in this country last year and presumably smoked. That works out to nearly 1,000 cigarettes a year for every man, woman and child in the United States. As many children and some women have not yet acquired the habit, a good many Americans must have smoked more than their per capita quota.

The history of cigarettes in America is interesting. These little cigars, as their name reminds one they are, owe much of their promotion to war. The Crimean struggle introduced them to England, which passed them on to us. They were first manufactured in this country about 1864. As late as 1884 the annual output in the United States was less than 1,000,000,000. Another quarter of a century had to elapse before the consumption of cigarettes rivalled that of their larger, darker and stronger competitors. The output in 1915 was about 18,000,000,000.

At this juncture the World War gave cigarettes another lift. The boys in the trenches demanded "fags" and men at home turned to them for economy's sake, while women, who from example abroad or excitement at home took to smoking on an unprecedented scale, wanted nothing else. The cost of production had been reduced by improvements in machinery and the utilization of more native tobacco, which was an added advantage for them. An economist estimates that if the present rate of increase is maintained until 1940, Americans will be smoking 300,000,000,000 cigarettes a year.

Cigarettes paid about 80 percent of the $450,000,000 the government levied on the tobacco industry for the fiscal year of 1930. There is good reason therefore for picturing Uncle Sam with a cheroot in his teeth. The "filthy weed" was the economic salvation of colonial Virginia and today sustains the position of more than one state in the list of contributors to the national exchequer. Cigarettes are Mademoiselle Nicotine in her most seductive role.

MacDONALD WINS

On several occasions the MacDonald government has failed to secure a majority when minor issues have been up in parliament, and each discomfiture has produced talk about the impending collapse of the Labor regime in Great Britain. But when it came to a direct question of confidence on a fundamental issue in which the whole of the island is interested, the issue of unemployment, Mr. MacDonald won out handily. It is reported that the majority he received Thursday surprised even his best well wishers.

It is quite probable that the extent of the premier's triumph was a result in part of the fact that he met the issue squarely in advance, and served notice that unless he received support he would recommend to the king the calling of a general election.

On the whole, the MacDonald government has been a fairly sound affair. It has been liberal without being radical, and the premier himself has a reputation for conscientiousness and hard work that is not to be gainsaid. Nor is the present moment in Great Britain a time to bring on lightly the confusion, uncertainty and excitement inseparable from a nation-wide, parliamentary election, or the tentativeness of policy that must be followed by an out-going regime.

It is easy to believe, too, that when the pinch came, the leaders of the Conservative and Liberal parties found themselves lacking in inner eagerness to become responsible for the nation while the economic situation, the Indian question and a few other matters are what they are. That, indeed, is the clear inference from the attitude of Lloyd George and the Liberals.

The number of kings who occupy thrones grows smaller and smaller; but the number of dictators that rule "republics" continues to be sufficiently large to keep most of the "emancipated" monarchies safe from anything savoring of real democracy.

If Alfonso really decides to come to the United States, he will be welcome. This country has entertained specimens of royalty much less worth seeing.

If needless noises are detrimental to the health, the American race must be rugged, for it stands a lot of punishment.

It is a pity so many men with ability to make their marks, persist in making dirty ones.

The last straw—"Big Bill" Thompson, has been asked to move his yacht out of the way.

In this day and age few people collapse from moral shock.

Alfonso may be out, but he evidently isn't down.

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, April 17.—You're not really old unless your memory runs back nine feet or more, to the days when they used to refer to them as "unmentionables."

A GOLDEN RULE

Tammany Hall is on the defensive again.

I've lived in New York a good many years and there's nothing novel in the spectacle of The Tiger having its tail twisted by The Righteous.

The only difference I can discern is the procedure adopted by those who dominate The Councils of The Braves.

In the old days The Leaders kept their mouths shut.

"I ain't got nuttin' to say!"

That was the watchword.

The Boys kept silence on the principle that when a man is not talking, he's not telling on himself, and listening to the other fellow who is.

As the Sage of Potato Hill puts it:

"I a man has a weakness, let him talk long enough and he'll reveal it."

UNDER MICROSCOPE

The French are scientific-minded. When they undertake to solve a problem they tackle it with intelligence.

For example: There's Georges Valo, a dapper young boulevardier who has been pub-crawling around Tammany Town for the last month studying the operation of Andrew Volstead's justly celebrated law for the Prohibition of Good Liquor.

Georges is director-general of the National Office for Alcohol Research of Paris, which maintains a bureau for the study of the Liquor Problem in its scientific, social and economic aspects.

PRETTY DISTINCTION

M. Valo is conducting a five-year investigation covering virtually every nation of the world. He has been on the survey for a year and thus far has visited Spain, England and Canada before tackling the mess in this country.

In the month he's spent in New York he has studied various types of speakeasies and their patrons; marveled at the trickery existing in gyp night-clubs; invaded the lower East Side smoke-joints, disguised as a Bowery bum; read the Wickersham report; raided with Prohibition and Customs agents; studied vital statistics offered by life insurance companies; listened to representatives of temperance organizations and to those of anti-Prohibition bodies.

At the end of the five-year period he hopes to have a report on which France may evolve a definite stand on the Alcohol Question.

M. Valo, himself, never touches. The Cursed Stuff. He is loath to comment on drinking as he has encountered it here in the United States, but speaking offhand and unofficially, he says:

"Under Prohibition, Americans are drunkards, not drinkers!"

GAY GARLIC

In "The Bitter Tea of General Yen"—a much touted new book, Grace Zaring Stone thus describes her heroine's first rickshaw ride in China:

"The coolie had muscled bare legs and had moved from side to side with a faint odor of swaggery; the odor of garlic he had been eating came cheerily back to her."

I may be prejudiced; but I think "cheerily" is the wrong word.

THE QUESTION BOX

Central Press Wash. Bureau

Answers to questions on information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O., and enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions, nor will the estimated value of old coins be given.

Are women ever buried in Arlington National cemetery? Yes.

Flight of Geese

What is the speed of a wild goose in flight?

The average speed of wild geese is between 40 and 60 miles an hour, although much higher speeds have been reported unofficially. The early type of Curtiss plane, traveling at a rate of 70 miles an hour, was able to overtake wild geese, thus indicating that a speed of more than 60 miles for these birds was not unusual.

Pawnbroker's Sign

Why do pawnbrokers have three balls in front of their shops?

This custom originated from armorial bearings of the Medici family, some of the earliest and most famous pawnbrokers of Lombardy. The sign is said by some to represent three gilded pills, alluding to the profession of medicine of which the family were active members. Others say the three balls is a device adopted by the family after Averardo de Medici slew a giant who carried a club with three iron balls on the end.

Sherlock Holmes

Was Sherlock Holmes a fictional character? Apparently, he was.

THE LINE OF LEAST RESISTANCE

SOFT COAL'S PROBLEM REGARDED AS SIMPLER THAN IS AGRICULTURE'S

CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Bad as the soft coal industry's illness is, if it were incurable no one could be blamed for it, agrees Congressman David J. Lewis of Maryland, who once was a miner and now is an authority on the industry.

But, he adds, there is a cure. "In one important respect," says the Maryland representative, "soft coal's case is decidedly simpler to deal with than agriculture's."

"America has a large exportable surplus of farm products, for which prices consequently are fixed in international markets that are beyond our control."

"Our soft coal exports practically are limited to Canada, except for the little that goes into the bunkers of foreign ships visiting our ports. Thus our soft coal problem, in that it is mainly domestic, is one we are in a position to solve for ourselves."

It is a problem Representative Lewis plans to attack at the next session of congress with bills designed to accomplish:

1. A freight rate readjustment insuring the shipment of coal from each of the various mines to that mine's natural markets and eliminating false distribution through artificial routing systems which will survive, despite the interstate commerce commission's efforts, from pre-commission days.

2. The creation of an organization, adapted from the German cartel model, enabling the soft coal industry to regulate itself for its own protection under a measure of government control and in co-operation with its workers and customers alike.

To the German "rationalization" program Congressman Lewis points as having lifted the fatherland's bituminous industry from post-war difficulties even worse than this country's to a basis of comparative prosperity, notwithstanding many unavoidable handicaps under which it labors even yet.

Illustratively, "When the Ruhr mines were re-opened after the French occupation," says the Maryland representative, quoting from the League of Nations statistics, "the situation had become so bad that, at the beginning of 1924, wages expressed in purchasing power actually were less than before the war. In the summer of 1927, with the cost of living about 50 per cent higher than in 1913, the effective wages of all workers in the mines had reached 53 per cent above 1913. Meanwhile, despite the very large increase in wages, production costs had fallen, on an average, from 16 shillings and 5 pence in 1924 to 13 shillings and 5 pence in 1926—or, approximately, from $4 to $3.22."

The miracle was wrought, explains Congressman Lewis, by price control, improvement in distribution methods, the closing of unremunerative mines or abandonment of unremunerative seams and the elimination of seasonal fluctuations; hence stabilization of output.

The system's machinery, as related by the Maryland lawmaker (who will spend June and July in Europe, studying it at first hand, as an investigating mining conditions in other old world countries), is directed, in the main, by a council representing the government, the mine owners, the miners, the coal merchants and the large coal consumers.

This body's functions, according to League of Nations authority, "are, for the most part, advisory." Nevertheless, the industry is bound by "legally enforceable contracts."

Which certainly smacks mightily strongly of "government in business"—so vehemently condemned by many business men. Representative Lewis smiled grimly. "Even so," he answered, "I don't believe the bituminous operators will object. There is little to choose today between the miners' lot and the mine owner's unless he has other resources than his mine. I feel safe in saying that owners and miners alike will be glad of any relief they can get, without much argument as to terms."

Miners' conditions in the West Virginia soft coal fields were described in detail recently before the Wagner unemployment insurance committee, the testimony of a mine union official alleging the conditions listed here:

Wages so low that a worker must toil six days weekly, ten to a dozen hours a day, to support a family; yet a scant third of them on full time jobs; another third on a one, two or three-day weekly schedule; the remainder idle altogether. The standard diet, cornmeal, beans and occasionally a little sorghum. All hands required, under penalty of dismissal, to trade at "company stores" at prices 30 to 40 per cent above independent merchants'. Rentals of unheated, unlighted, unsanitary hovels, $6 to $10 monthly. Trade unionism forbidden under a multiplicity of court orders, based on "yellow dog" contracts. Meager aid available from county poor funds; most treasures empty.

Nothing the Red Cross can do; its concern is not with "local economic situations." And the West Virginia state of affairs, observes Congressman Lewis is fairly representative of soft coal mining everywhere.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

MENU HINT

Salmon and Bacon Rolls
Potato Chips

Green Peas Creamed Head Lettuce
Cookie Shortcake Tea

This is somewhat of a delicatessen meal which may be used when one has little time to prepare more elaborate dishes. Your emergency shelf of canned goods is called into play to help you out. Housecleaning time, club day, after a shopping tour, when there's not much time for cooking, you may be glad to utilize these recipes.

Today's Recipes

Salmon and Bacon Rolls.—One tall can salmon, one medium onion minced, one-half cup canned tomato soup undiluted, one egg, one cup bread crumbs, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-fourth cup oil. Mix well, form into small rolls and wrap each with a strip of bacon fastened with a toothpick. Brown in hot skillet or broil if preferred.

Cookie Shortcake.—This is made by placing a few spoonfuls of jam or fresh fruit between two cookies or wafers and serving with cream.

Suggestions

Renewed Galoshes.—Purchase a bottle of black liquid shoe polish and give the old galoshes a coat. After thoroughly drying give them a second coat and they will look almost like new. It works equally well on common rubbers and sandals and colors as well as black.

Polishers

When the children's woolen socks have outworn their usefulness cut off the feet and use them for polishing the silver and brass. They are also ideal for shining up the nickel plate on the automobile

Artificial Infant Food Is Valuable

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

There are several different kinds of prepared infant foods on the market. All of them have value in some way.

Evaporated, unsweetened, milk was considered yesterday. The others fall into four general kinds.

First are the powdered foods, mostly mixtures of sugars and starches. They contain dextrin and maltose, which are the sugars easiest for the infant to digest. They also contain starch, milk sugar (lactose) and some of the cane sugar. They are useful to add to whole milk formulae, since such formulae need some carbohydrate added to them.

Second, the dried milk products. One method of manufacturing is to have whole pasteurized milk sprayed into a compartment through which a stream of heated air is being passed. The heat takes the water out of the milk, and the residue falls to the bottom of the compartment in the form of a fine, flaky powder. This powder is collected and sealed in cans.

Another way is to flow the milk over steam heated, revolving drums. The water is abstracted by the heat and the dried milk removed from the drums and put in cans. These dried milk preparations are free from harmful bacteria, and the drying changes the protein of the milk to a more digestible form. They are quite satisfactory for the preparation of infant feedings. They must be modified in the same way that whole milk mixtures are modified by the addition of carbohydrate and the addition of vitamins C and D in the form of orange juice and cod liver oil.

Some foods are a mixture of dried milk and sugar, such as dex-trin, maltose and cane sugar. They also add minerals, such as calcium and iron and cod liver oil concentrate. They are recommended to be used as supplementary to whole milk feeding, not to supplant whole milk. Condensed milk comes in this category. It is whole cow's milk evaporated to half the volume and sugar added. Condensed milk should not be used as the only food for a baby. It must be supplemented by whole milk formulas and by orange juice and cod liver oil.

Another group is the so-called complete infant foods. The object of these preparations is to come as close as possible to an imitation of mother's milk. Special fats are added to skimmed cow's milk and also cod liver oil to provide vitamins A and D. It can be obtained in powdered and concentrated liquid forms.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

I. P. T., Indianapolis: "Is there any mechanical device which is recommended to prevent children from sucking the thumb?"

Answer: The Safety Thumb Guard company, New Haven, Conn., manufacture a guard made of German silver wire so constructed that there are no loose ends or sharp points to get in the eyes or injure the face. There are also guards for the fingers. Homemade guards are, however, often just as good.

Editor's Note: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Choose Wife Who's Sunny, Sport

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"DEAREST VIRGINIA LEE: I have had three years in college, all so silly, all this 'necking' among your children. Before you're old enough to consider serious courtship you want to get all the thrills. By the time you are old enough to know what love is, you'll be shopworn. Better stay away from parties where the boys are not gentlemanly enough to see that you get safely home, and wait awhile. You'll probably be more popular than your school-mates when you're a bit older."

"One is a decided brunette and is very agreeable in the school-room, but on other occasions has given me the cold shoulder at every opportunity. Sometimes I believe she likes me a great deal, but she usually manages to get angry about every little thing, and even went so far as to stand me up. She is very changeable."

"I have had more success with the other one. She is a decided blonde, very pretty, always smiling and a good sport. Always ready for some fun. I cannot tell whether or not she thinks of me as seriously as I'd like, because she has such a carefree, fun-loving nature."

"I am bordering on bachelorhood and think it is time I settled down. Please advise me on which one of the two girls I should center my attention."

"W. B."

Not much chance for an argument there, W. B. Like the other gentlemen, you should prefer the blonde.

A girl who is changeable and gets angry at every little thing is not the best sort of a mate for matrimony. A man wants to be sure of his wife's temper when he comes home from work. He doesn't want to have to "throw his hat in first" before he dares to cross the threshold.

As to the girl who is "always smiling and a good sport," what more could a man want in a wife? Even if she wasn't pretty she would make the best possible helpmeet. Concentrate on her, W. B., and how! You'll be a lucky fellow if you can get her to say yes.

TWO WORRIED GIRLS: What

Remove Make-up Before Retiring

By GLADYS GLAD

Those women who complain that soap and water dry their skins, are often the ones who perform their facial ablutions at the wrong time of the day. I am not referring, in this instance, to women whose skins are chronically very dry.

Women with such skins are generally advised against the use of soap and water, although it is my belief that one such cleansing a day will not harm the dry skin, if steps are taken immediately afterward to restore to the skin the natural oil that has been removed by the cleansing process.

For the majority of women, soap and water washing of the face, especially during the cooler weather, should be a part of the nightly ritual. Few skins, and those only the very oily ones, can stand soap and water washings just before they are exposed to wind or cold.

The best time for the thorough cleansing of the skin is at night. To postpone this cleansing until morning is one of the most hazardous of practices. The soil of the day should be removed from the skin, no matter how tired you may be, how anxious to grab that one extra wink of sleep that you might gain by slighting your complexion duty. It is most important that the pores be cleansed of the day's accumulation of dirt, dust and powder, so that they may function freely at night.

The girl who arrives home in the wee small hours, kicks off her slippers, flops into bed and waits until she must rise before she removes the confetti from her hair and the makeup from her face is certainly not giving herself an even break. For failing to cleanse the skin before retiring even once will have its harmful effects. And continued carelessness in this respect will lay the groundwork for blackheads.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Buttermilk

Tina: Buttermilk is not fattening. You may safely drink as many as two quarts a day. Grapes, however, are fattening.

Hands

Marilyn: Exercise will indeed help to mould and shape your hands, and make them flexible and graceful. The exercises contained in my article on "Care of the Hands and Nails" are excellent for this purpose.

Cocoa Butter

Myrna: Cocoa butter is used for fattening purposes. Massage your face nightly with warmed cocoa butter. This will help to fatten the tissues and round out the facial contours.

Editor's Note: While it is impossible for Miss Glad to answer questions by mail, she will be happy to send you her pamphlets on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture" if you will write her, care of this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the articles on "Care of the Hands and Nails" and "Care of the Feet and Legs," 2 cents in coin for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope are required. Personal questions on beauty will be answered through Miss Glad's daily column.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

Golf and tennis, it would seem, have much in common.

They tell you that the most important thing to learn about golf is to "keep your eye on the ball."

Keeping your eye on the ball is, on no less an authority than William T. Tilden II, of utmost importance if you are to become proficient at the net game.

At any rate, the admonition to keep your eye on the ball is listed as the first of the "Ten Commandments of Tennis" drawn up by Big Bill, once the peer of amateur tennis players, who has forsaken the Simen Pure ranks and turned professional.

His other nine "commandments," in the order named, are:

1—Make all shots with your body sideways to the net.

2—Always have your weight going into the shot.

3—Use a racket that is well strung and not too heavy.

4—Always dress specially for tennis and be sure to shower and change after playing.

5—Remember no match is lost until the last point is played; so fight no matter how far you are behind.

6—Never change the style of a winning game.

7—Always take chances when losing for you have everything to win and nothing to lose.

8—Don't worry over defeat or crow over victory. Winning or losing, keep your mouth shut.

9—Play the game as much as possible and play it for the fun of the game.

It may be taken more or less for granted that Big Bill himself strives to obey most of his own rules, although it is a matter of record he has not always practiced what he preaches about keeping mum whether winning or losing.

A genius at tennis, Tilden has a certain right to be temperamental. His one failing is a tendency to allow the gallery to get his goat once in a while.

Big Bill and his professional tennis troupe visited Dayton Monday night and exhibition singles and doubles matches were staged before 2,000 people at the airgrounds coliseum.

The space, was, of course, limited, but Tilden and his associates gave their best under play conditions which handicapped them to some extent.

When the troupe performed at the spacious Xavier University field house in Cincinnati several months ago conditions were more ideal for indoor matches and the pro stars, in our opinion, gave a better exhibition upon that occasion.

In his singles match at Dayton with Karel Kozeluh, former world professional tennis champion, who is nearly as old as Tilden, Big Bill won all by play rather easily and was in good spirits. Nothing irritated him on this occasion and the fans were liberal and impartial in their applause of the efforts of all players alike.

One feminine patron attempted to rile the famous Bill by calling him "Cannonball," but Kozeluh quickly turned and requested her to desist. Kozeluh apparently does his best to keep Tilden in good humor and to keep the crowd in the same condition. He does plenty of clowning when he plays and is as handy with his feet and head as he is with his racket. Playing against the great maestro of tennis, Karel is usually forced on the defensive most of the match and at Dayton, as at Cincinnati, he astonished the wide-eyed customers with his "gets" of seemingly impossible Tilden shots.

Emmett Pare, former national clay courts champion, who recognizes Dayton as his home, is another member of the troupe, having also deserted the amateur ranks in quest of the all-mighty dollar. Although not as experienced nor as finished a player as Tilden, this youth's style of play is in many respects similar to that of Bill. He has the same "cannonball" serve and drives the ball hard, but is inclined to be erratic at times.

CINCINNATI U. TO ERECT BUILDING

CINCINNATI, 1, April 23.—Construction work has been started on a new $400,000 biology building at the University of Cincinnati, continuing the school's $5,000,000 improvement program.

The $350,000 Wilson Memorial Auditorium and the $450,000 Teachers College Building are nearing completion. Plans are now being drawn for a $500,000 physics building, a $150,000 central shop and warehouse, and a $300,000 basic science research laboratory for a $400,000 student union.

Citizens of Cincinnati approved bond issues for $3,125,000 for new university structures. Other recent improvements have been financed through gifts and bequests from private individuals and corporations.

Growth of the student body from 2,500 persons in 1920 to more than 12,000 in 1930-31 made a campus expansion program imperative.

RUTH IN HOSPITAL; GEHRIG ALSO HURT; YANKEES ALARMED

BOSTON, April 23.—With Babe Ruth in the hospital nursing a severe bruise on his left thigh that probably will keep him out of action for a week or longer, a fresh peril loomed for the Yankees this morning.

Lou Gehrig's leg buckled under him yesterday, and although he continued to play, and will start today, he is in momentary danger of springing a charleyhorse that may incapacitate him indefinitely.

Gehrig completed his 894th consecutive game with the Yankees yesterday and is eager to run the string to 1,000 or more. Whether or not he will succeed is purely a matter of luck. A wrench, however slight, may send Lou to the sick bay.

A X-ray photograph disclosed no injury to Ruth's thigh bone. There is danger of a deep seated blood clot forming, however, and should this develop, Babe will be out of action for perhaps two weeks.

In the event that the physicians at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital can prevent the threatening clot from forming, and they worked over Ruth for hours, the home-run king will be discharged from the hospital today. He spent a comfortable night.

Physicians at the hospital said today that the numbness in the leg which caused Ruth to fear that his leg was broken was caused by shock to the nerves. Shortly after being admitted to the hospital, however, he regained motion in his ankle joint and feet. The Babe reassured himself this morning that everything was all right by giving exhibitions of toe wriggling.

SOFTBALL LID MAY BE PRIED OFF AT COX FIELD ON FRIDAY NIGHT

If the diamond is dried out sufficiently, and if it doesn't rain any more, and if it is not too cold—a belated attempt will be made Friday night to open the current softball season at Cox Athletic Field.

Four straight postponements have been made necessary this week because of rainy weather, but in the event climatic conditions are more favorable it is expected the All-Stars and Krippendorf the Criterion and Wood's Barber Shop teams will be able to stage a scheduled National League contest at 6:30 p. m. Friday.

Walker Gibney, president of the Xenia Playground Association, said Thursday that the remaining game booked for this week will be played if at all possible, despite reports that all games scheduled for this week might be postponed and played off at the close of the season.

An American League game between the All-Stars and Krippendorf, carded for Thursday night, was called off at noon because of wet grounds and cold weather.

Here is Jess Harper, prominent cattleman at Wichita, Kan., since he turned over his job of coaching Notre Dame football teams to the late Knute Rockne. In 1918, who has been named director of athletics at the South Bend university. It was Harper who introduced the style of play which Rockne, his pupil, later adopted, bringing national-wide fame to Notre Dame.

KNUTE ROCKNES BEST STORIES

As Told By DON MILLER
One of the famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame
Written for Central Press

The football season of 1922 looked gray and dull for Knute Rockne, the famous mentor of Notre Dame. Graduation saw the passing of the great 1921 team. In the line of that aggregation were Harry Mehre, center; Hank Anderson, now senior coach at the Irish school, and Ed Degree, guards; Garvey and Frank Coughlin, tackles; and Eddie Anderson and Roge Kiley, ends. Only Degree remained for the following year. In the backfield were Coughlin and Johnny Mohardt, halfbacks; Chet Wynne, fullback, and Frank Thomas, quarter. Only Thomas remained for the season of '22.

Old Rock faced the 1922 season with a bunch of sophomores, untried and inexperienced. The first three games were won without trouble. The fourth was the big test—the first game ever played in Atlanta, Ga., by Notre Dame against Georgia Tech.

The players were nervous. The team dressed slowly, tightening shoe laces, arranging headgear. There was little pep. Then Rock walked in and yelled: "Everybody up!"

He gave one of his many brilliant lectures. As he talked, the squad's spirits began to rise a bit. At the end he pulled a telegram from his pocket. It was from his son, seriously ill at home. "Daddy, win this game for me," he read. Rock turned and walked out.

No team in intercollegiate football could have stopped Notre Dame that day.

CHAUTAUQUA PLANS REVEALED; WILL BE HELD HERE JULY 1-7

The annual Redpath Chautauqua program in Xenia will be presented this summer the week of July 1 to July 7, both dates inclusive.

Three plays which promise the presentation of wholesome dramatic entertainment, will be the high spots of Chautauqua this year. "Broken Dishes," a rollicking comedy which has just finished a year's run in New York, "Her Husband's Wife," another comedy declared to be an outstanding play of its type, and "Grumpy," which was a great success not only as a stage production but more recently in the movies, are the three offerings. In the last-named play Redpath obtained the services of J. B. Gifford, widely known actor, for the title role.

Chautauqua will also present good music and in the Philharmonic Orchestra and the "Violin Maker of Cremona," a Radanovits musical play, the Redpath management is convinced a high mark in musical entertainment will be reached.

The Metropolitan Singers, produced by Sandor Radanovits, Redpath producer and the main responsible for the Cathedral Choir, are also expected to prove a big attraction to Chautauquagoers.

Reno, the magician, Lura Forbes, the Ball-Brown Co. and Junior Town are other attractions on the program for children and grown-ups alike.

Prominent among the lecturers to be presented is Adalyn Wright Macaulay, past president of the American Legion Auxiliary and the only American ever to be president of the United Nations, who is declared to be one of the two or three outstanding women speakers in the world today.

C. Ray Hansen, member of the criminal commission, former assistant prosecuting attorney in Chicago, who spent some time with the Capone gang, will also give a lecture. Mr. Hansen created some thing of a sensation in the larger cities during the past winter with addresses on gangland and how to deal with gangsters.

Another widely known lecturer who will be on the program is Charles H. Plattenburg, who is said to be without a superior as an inspirational speaker.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

Merrily the Baseball Bluebirds fly about the April sky. Joyously they break forth into sweet spring songs, chirping the glad tidings of success and victory. They circle and swoop, outlined against the crazy peaks of the first division. It's a thrilling sight.

The sun gleams on the wings of Boston Brave and St. Louis Brown, Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Philly. The rarefied atmosphere does not seem to make them giddy. Can this be the millennium?

Ab, but who is THIS?
'Tis Old Man Percentage, blunderbuss to shoulder, squinting skyward. The Bluebirds, unheeding, continue their happy flight.

BLOOE! BLOOE! Both barrels, by cracky!

Down, down zoom the hapless Baseball Bluebirds, as they needs must do every spring. Those joyous early season days of frolicking about the top are at a definite end as they plunge down into the second division where they will be stuffed and mounted and on display all summer as specie closely, but not quite, resembling a baseball team.

Old Man Percentage seldom misses. Once in a great while one of these lowly birds escape—as did the Boston Braves in 1914—and soar to a pennant. But that doesn't happen often enough to worry about.

Baseball is the most consistent of team sports because in the summer-long marathon is pretty sure to tell. So don't get excited about today's standings. Just watch—and wait.

Last season's was a typical big league start. As the sixteen clubs moved into the second week of the campaign not one club occupied the position it was destined to fill in October.

In the American league Detroit was second, Boston third, St. Louis and Chicago fighting for fourth. In the National Pittsburgh was second, while Boston and Philadelphia were third place rivals.

Check that with the 1930 standings at the finish and how what fath you may have had in these early season showings.

MADE MAYOR EMERITUS
OAKLAND, Calif.—Forty years of public service was rewarded when Mayor John L. Davis was declared "Mayor Emeritus" here. Action was taken by the city council. The mayor has announced his retirement July 1, when a council manager form of government goes into effect.

N. Y. STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 23.—After dropping off to a slightly lower price level at the beginning of today's session, the industrial stocks and leading utilities registered a sharp come-back. There were indications that the market had been sold to a standstill in the last week or two, and that this reckless short selling had finally placed the market in a position to rally sharply. Before the end of the first hour recoveries of 1 to 2 1/2 points were recorded in the favorites, while Auburn Auto raced up 12 1/2 points to 205.

WITTENBERG DEAN TO ADDRESS SCOUT LEADERS THURSDAY

Dean C. G. Shartzler of Wittenberg College, Springfield, will be one of the principal speakers when the Greene County Boy Scout Leader's Training Class holds its regular meeting in the W. Main St. Scout room Thursday night at 7:30. Dr. Shartzler will discuss "Ceremonies in the Scout Program."

Members of the local court of honor and board of review with Louis Hammerle as chairman will attend. The speaker will develop the principles of a good ceremony the value of ceremony as an educational method, its function and application to Scouting events. A short discussion will follow the lecture.

The Rev. Wm. H. Tilford, chairman of the training class will have charge of the meeting. Patrol Leaders Carl Pramer and A. E. Chaney, Osborn, will have charge of several instructive games that will pertain to the more serious side of Scouting.

WILL BUY CHRYSLER AUTO FOR SHERIFF

Purchase of a new automobile for use by the sheriff's office has been authorized by County Commissioners.

Accepting the bid of Ankeney Motor Sales as the best of eight submitted, commissioners have decided to buy a Chrysler Six sedan for Sheriff John Baughn and his deputies.

The net purchase price amounted to $670 after deducting a trade-in allowance of $325 on the old Studebaker sedan, at present used by the sheriff's force.

KILL MUSIC TAX
SACRAMENTO, Calif.—A bill to make all music teachers pay a $1 license fee annually was gently sung to sleep here in the senate education committee. "This bill has caused more discord than any other before the committee," said Senator Herbert Slater, the chairman, in referring to statewide protests received.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN GETS RESULTS

"I'm Proud of my Careful Children"

With the school year drawing to a close it is fitting that the final safety poster of the year provided by the American Automobile Association should be one of congratulatory to the youngsters for their success in heeding safety educational campaigns.

The final poster shows Uncle Sam with his arms around two children, saying "I'm proud of my careful children." The posters are provided here by the Greene County Auto Club and are being distributed in Xenia by Peter Shagin, motorcycle policeman, while L. A. Davis, county road patrolman, will distribute the posters outside of Xenia.

TRAVELING GAVEL CHANGED HANDS AT MEETING OF GRANGE

The Greene County traveling gavel was presented to Caesar Creek Grange by Charity Grange, No. 1208 at a joint meeting of the two Granges at Caesar Creek school, Wilmington Pike, Tuesday night. The gavel is made from a piece of wood taken out of the Charity Grange building, which was built more than fifty years ago and is the only Grange Hall built or owned by a Grange in the county.

Officers from Charity Grange who occupied the official chair at the meeting were Karl Zink, master; Stephen Stedman, overseer; Mrs. R. C. Rayner, lecturer; Rollin Varner, steward; Russell H. Cosler, assistant steward; Harry Stedman, secretary; Frank Shawhan, treasurer; Kenneth Stedman, gatekeeper; Miss Georgia Cosler, chaplain; Mrs. Karl Zink, Ceres; Mrs. Harry Stedman, Pomona; Mrs. Elsie J. Campbell, Flora; Miss Eleanor Varner, lady assistant steward and Miss Wilhelmina Stedman, pianist.

The program presented during the evening consisted of a song, "Auld Lang Syne," reading, Margaret Raney vocal solo, Harry Stedman reading, Lucille Rayner; piano duet, the Misses Wilhelmina and Priscilla Stedman; one act play, "Getting Rid of an Agent," Miss Georgia Cosler, Mrs. Elsie J. Campbell and Russell H. Cosler; piano solo, Stephen Stedman and song, "Home Sweet Home." A covered dish supper was served later in the evening.

THIS SCENE MAY BE PROPHETIC

The reported break between Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor, his motion picture actress wife, recalls this photo, taken in 1928. The pair are shown in an altercation—but it was only make-believe then. Photo shows Jack and Estelle rehearsing their roles for a play in which both appeared in New York.

WORSHIP SELF-MADE GODS SAYS SPEAKER

"The New Christ Wanted" was the subject of Miss Marie Cassell Wednesday evening at the Friends Church, High and Chestnut Sts., where a series of special meetings is in progress. Miss Cassell said, "Every one worships something, some worship the pleasure god, some the money god, others the business god. Fifty per cent of the people in the United States profess to worship God and then the other 50 per cent must worship self-made gods."

Miss Cassell declared that the Christ the people want is a Christ with small demands who will not disturb the present life. "But the Christ the people really need is the Christ who will live in men and change them, a Christ who can give conscience rest."

There will be services each evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church to which the public is invited.

PENNSY TRAIN TIME CHANGES REVEALED

Time changes, most of them minor in nature, in the arriving and departing of Pennsylvania Railroad trains here, are included in the new time schedule effective Sunday, according to I. F. Emery, passenger agent here.

The most important change affects the time of the Chicago train with parlor car which has been leaving Xenia at 9:52 and will be advanced to 9:37 effective Sunday. The train arriving here from St. Louis at 8:01 p. m. has also been advanced to 6:55 p. m. Other changes of five or six minutes in time are noted on the new schedule, which will be published in this paper.

CAN'T STICK HIM

JEFFERSON, O., April 23.—Elephants may have crude ways of doing things, but they get them done. One of the pachyderms quartered here during the winter months with the Walter Main circus got stuck inside a barn. He proceeded to make his own doorway, tearing down $300 worth of barn in the successful effort.

GUNS WILL ROAR
EAST LYME, Conn.—The shooting grounds of the late Morton F. Plant are about to be converted into an artillery practice field for the Connecticut national guard. Fred Stone, theatrical star, bought the property from the estate and converted it into a ranch. Tiring of that institution he leased it to the state for $3,500 a year, and now has sold it outright.

DIRECTOR OF RURAL SCOUTING TO SPEAK AT COUNCIL DINNER

OSCAR H. BENSON

Oscar H. Benson, New York City, national director of rural scouting, Boy Scouts of America, will be principal speaker when the executive board of Tecumseh Council meets at Central Methodist Church, Springfield, May 1. The meeting will begin with a banquet at 6:30 p. m. and will be presided over by the president, William C. Jordan, Springfield.

District committees and all adult Scout leaders are invited to attend. Members of the Xenia district committee voted recently to attend in a body.

Mr. Benson for many years was closely associated with the 4-H Club movement. He brought these two movements close enough together that merit badge credits in Scouting could be earned as a part of the 4-H Club program. In his address he will outline the program of his department and explain how it is carried to the farm and home patrol Scout.

Benson is coming to Springfield from Portsmouth and will leave immediately after his address for Memphis, Tenn., where the National Boy Scout Convention will be held May 5 and 6. Preparations are being made for more than 200 adult Scout leaders representing Logan, Champaign, Clark, Greene, and Clinton Counties.

H. W. Haun, Columbus, deputy regional Scout executive for region four, will present the results of an analysis made recently of Tecumseh Council. Haun spent nearly a week in Springfield, Urbana, Xenia, and Wilmington, ascertaining facts concerning the Boy Scout movement in this area. These he has formulated into a comprehensive plan that will be included in a new five-year program for the local Scout council. Details of this plan will be released by the press in the near future.

NOTHING FANCY FOR THESE GIRLS

UNLESS they should exercise the woman's prerogative and change their minds, senior girls of Central High School will wear white semi-sport dresses at baccalaureate services May 31 and at graduation exercises June 2.

Senior boys will be attired in either Oxford grey or blue cheviot suits for the baccalaureate service, while the graduation "ensemble" will consist of white flannel trousers with dark coats, white shirts, black and white ties and black silk hose. Bow ties will be taboo, however.

Members of the graduating class voted against the plan of wearing caps and gowns.

ELEAZER

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Faulkner spent the week end in Alliance, O., with Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis.

Mrs. Sarah Weaver spent a few days as the guest of Mrs. Ida Strelt.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hooser, Washington C. H., spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Mary Hartsook.

DAD CHALLENGES CO-ED EXPLUSION

Right of state universities to dismiss students whose grades are low is challenged by William West, of Portsmouth, O., whose daughter, Jean, has been dismissed from Miami University, at Oxford, O., for failing to pass a mid-semester examination. He is quoted as saying, "It is time someone has challenged the theory that the right to attend our public state colleges is an exclusive privilege." Dr. Alfred Upham, president of the university, says that if West succeeds in obtaining an injunction disciplinary rules of state universities everywhere will be discarded. The case is being tried at Hamilton.

TED LEWIS COMING "HOME"

Circleville Boy Who Made Good In World Of Jazz To Play In Columbus

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—The whole town will turn out this week to welcome back Ted Lewis, a neighbor boy who made good.

For Lewis, "king of jazz" now, who learned about music at "Cricket Smith's" barber shop in Circleville, which is right next door to Columbus, is coming here this week with his famous band, a neighbor boy who made good.

Ted Lewis or Theodore Friedman as Circleville knows him, was just eight years old at the time and the youngest member of the organization which they called the Circleville High School Cadet Band.

Ted took naturally to the clarinet and picked it up in no time, old friends recall. But Ted's trick of "jazzing" a piece caused him trouble and before long the old German bandmaster who directed the band disagreed with the future "jazz king" over how to play "Post and Peasant" and so Ted lost his place.

Ted's father wanted him to grow up and become a successful dry goods merchant but Ted wanted a jazz tempo every minute and wanted to go to college. Finally his parents sent him to a business college in Columbus. Two months later Ted's parents made an important discovery. Ted was not going to school.

The family visited Columbus to investigate and found him in a blue uniform with large brass buttons playing in a band in Orlentany Park.

That was how Ted went back to Circleville. The way he left the second time is a longer story but when he did depart it was to go to New York. He played in theatres in and near his home town to earn his fare.

How his sobbing clarinet boosted him to the top of his profession and how he found smart night clubs just as receptive to his melody as the boys in "Cricket" Smith's barbershop back home is a

PORT WILLIAM

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Thompson of Spring Valley spent Sunday with Mrs. Thompson's sister, Mrs. Walter Sanders and family.

Sunday guests with Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMillan were Miss Ruth Milligan, Newton McMillan of Cincinnati, Miss Elinor Dibble of Loveland, Harold McMillan of Fort Wayne, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nordyke of Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stump and daughter Jo Ann of Dayton, and Mr. and Mrs. Elias Beal.

Miss Dorothy Carter of Xenia spent Saturday night with Miss Geneva Linkhart.

Mrs. Stephen Beal was called to Pittsburgh, Pa., Saturday by the serious illness of her grand daughter, Miss Merla Adams, who has scarlet fever.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Starbuck and family, Mrs. Jennie Plummer were Sunday visitors with relatives at Lima.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pennington entertained at 6 o'clock dinner Sunday evening, Miss Elinor Carson, Dick Sewell of Clarksville, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bentley.

Auber Williams and son Billy of Cincinnati spent Monday and Tuesday with A. F. Fancher and family and attended the funeral of Mr. Williams' uncle, Stephen Williams.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The senior class held a short meeting Wednesday morning and various committees for the class play "Take My Advice" were appointed and the staff for the senior edition of the Central High "Review" was announced. The edition will be published the same week as the class play. The seniors also edited the Christmas edition of the "Review." Marie Williamson was appointed editor of the "Review" staff and Betty Liddle will be her assistant. Walter Everhart was appointed business manager for the paper. John Bull was appointed stage manager for the class play, and Lester Price business manager. Plans for the annual senior trip were also discussed at the meeting. The seniors are planning on their trip May 8, 9 and 10. The trip will be similar to that of last year. Many interesting points around Lake Erie will be witnessed by about fifty-five members of the graduating class. The trip will be made by motor and members of the faculty will act as chaperons.

The junior class made a neat profit from its recent play "Are You A Mason?" This sum will be added to the class treasury to help defray expenses for the annual junior-senior reception at which the juniors act as hosts. Committees have been appointed for the reception which will be held in the high school gymnasium Friday night, May 22.

The H.S. club has been busy of late taking in new members of its organization to replace seniors who will graduate this year. John Maxwell, Fred Dalton, Philip Aultman, William Wolf, Richard Creamer, and Richard Lightheiser were initiated into the club last week, but have not been awarded their final degrees. Eight other boys from the junior, sophomore, and freshmen classes will be given their initiation within the next week or two. The club is anxiously awaiting the return of its president, Elwood Shafter, who is still absent from school because of a recent spell of sickness. A special program is being arranged for Monday night's meeting.

A member of the junior class expressed his thoughts about spring fever in an article appearing in the Central High Review last week. "Spring fever has pounced mercilessly upon the poor trusting individuality of the Xenia Central High School. There are days, now, when one would like to be in the open spaces. What new courtships will arise from this balmy weather? What 'steadies' will survive and what new couples will appear as if from the clear blue April sky? We wonder, for the poet says that a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love." (We wonder if he has changed his mind by this time about the weather).

The seniors have finished their organization to replace seniors who course in American History and are now busy studying civics. The rest of the school year will be devoted to the study of this subject.

The freshmen class is planning on a "Bowery Ball" in the school gymnasium Friday night, May 1. It is the first venture of the freshmen along social lines and the upper classes are waiting the outcome.

The freshmen held a special "hot dog" sale in the halls at the close of the "free period" Tuesday afternoon and realized a neat profit from their efforts.

Four reels of motion pictures were presented in the auditorium Wednesday afternoon to students who purchased tickets for ten cents. Comedy films were shown and were well received.

Spring football practice on the Central campus has been at a low ebb for the past week due to the sudden wet and cold spell. Coach Wilson had been getting along in pretty good style and his boys were beginning to get a number of the fundamentals worked into their minds. The squad has dropped somewhat from the opening night, but a number of next falls most promising prospects are still in uniform.

The high school orchestra has been holding practices once a week lately under the direction of Fred Saumeng. Several of the members of the orchestra will be back next year, and so it will be somewhat of an easy job to get organized at the beginning of the school term next fall.

The "Ag" Club has been holding its regular meetings and many interesting discussions have been carried on. Several of the boys were busy for a while testing seed corn.

The junior-senior Latin Club held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday. After a short business meeting a snappy program was enjoyed.

TO BE REIMBURSED

CLEVELAND, O. April 23. — A bright future has been assured for Mrs. Ellen Hunt, 65-year-old seamstress of Cleveland, Cuyahoga County commissioners have announced that they probably will award her $15,000 after her 34-year fight to obtain vindication for her illegal incarceration in the Newburgh State Hospital in 1897. Permission to make the grant was given in a bill passed by the state legislature.

The Theater

Movie players of the silent days who found the advent of talkies such a dragon, have discovered, in many cases that it can be slain like many another.

Some, it is true, because of voice imperfections, have been forced out of pictures, but those who wished to remain and were determined to cultivate and modulate their voices for perfect reception, have come back to win new honors.

Everyone said that Adolphe Menjou was through as a screen player, because his voice was not received well by the mike, but Menjou is now reaching new heights as a player. He came back by way of the foreign versions be-list includes many who have staged come-backs, such as Betty Compson, Thomas Meighan, and others, while many of the stage importations have worn out their Hollywood welcomes and departed.

Lew Ayres, erstwhile banjo player, has ironed out his salary difficulties at Universal with a new five-year contract at a substantial salary increase plus bonuses. He will immediately begin tests for the long proposed "Mississippi" and this will probably be his next picture. Russell Mack will direct. Lew has also smoothed over his sweetheart difficulties with Lola Lee, it is said.

Bob Woolsey and Bert Wheeler will play next in "All At Sea," a story by Ring Lardner and Joseph Stanley with Bill Seiter directing. After that is an original story by Douglas MacLean, "Pull of Notions." Dorothy Lee will be their leading lady. Captain Flagg and Sergeant Quirk will be taken out of army service for their next, "Disorderly Conduct."

Twenty Years '11-Ago-'31

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones, E. Main St., are the proud parents of a ten-pound daughter. A fellowship for the year 1911-12 has been offered to Arthur Schlesinger by the faculty of Columbia University as a reward for high scholarship in American history.

A charming reception to the new members was held at the First Reformed Church, and 200 persons enjoyed the occasion.

The Denison Glee Club will give a sacred concert at the Y. M. C. A. hall Sunday.

LOIS WILSON

cause he is master of several languages, but now his performance as the managing editor in "The Front Page" is said to be superb.

The choice of Menjou for the role was ridiculed by many who knew the part. It wasn't an obvious deduction that the suave player of romantic roles could depict, with realism, the part of a free-eating, hard-boiled newspaper man. But Menjou justified those who had faith in him.

Lois Wilson is another splendid player whose bright star was eclipsed by many who knew the part. It wasn't an obvious deduction that the suave player of romantic roles could depict, with realism, the part of a free-eating, hard-boiled newspaper man. But Menjou justified those who had faith in him.

MARY MCGINNIS TO GO ON TRIAL MONDAY!!!

THE TRIAL OF THE STATE VS. MARY MCGINNIS HAS BEEN SET FOR MONDAY, APRIL 27TH. IT PROMISES TO BE ONE OF THE MOST SPECTACULAR CASES EVER HEARD IN THE LOCAL COURTS.

STATEMENTS ISSUED TODAY FROM THE PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE INDICATED THAT MUGGS MCGINNIS, AGE SEVEN, BROTHER OF THE DEFENDANT WOULD BE THE STAR WITNESS IN THE STATES ATTEMPT TO PROVE HIS SISTER GUILTY OF GRAND LARCENY!!

THE ARREST OF MARY MCGINNIS CAME AS A COMPLETE SURPRISE AFTER HER RELEASE FROM POLICE HEADQUARTERS THE PREVIOUS DAY.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS CONCERNING THOSE INVOLVED IN THE CASE ARE AS FOLLOWS—

MUGGS MCGINNIS, THE STATES STAR WITNESS, ATE A HEARTY SUPPER AND HAD LITTLE TO SAY EXCEPT THAT THE FOOD WAS EXCELLENT!!

WHEN INTERVIEWED AT CENTRAL POLICE STATION TODAY— THE DEFENDANT— MARY MCGINNIS, AGE 20, SOBBERED, MUGGS AND I ARE INNOCENT!! THEN SMILING THROUGH HER TEARS ADDED— BUT WE MAY HAVE A HARD JOB PROVING IT!!

THE CHIEF OF POLICE, WHEN REACHED TODAY, DENIED THE RUMOR THAT HE HAD RECEIVED ANONYMOUS LETTERS SIGNED "THE MAN IN THE LONG BLACK OVERCOAT"— HE REFUSED TO DISCUSS THE PROBABLE OUTCOME OF THE MCGINNIS TRIAL.

THE PROSECUTOR DECLINED TO DISCUSS THE CASE FURTHER THAN TO REMARK— "I ASSURE YOU THE STATE HAS EXCELLENT REASONS FOR TRYING MISS MCGINNIS!!"

POLICE ARE STILL SEARCHING FOR THE MAN IN THE LONG BLACK OVERCOAT— BUT IS IT A MAN?— AND— WILL HE BE FOUND?

IGLOO PASSES ON

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd is mourning the death of his canine pal, Igloo, who accompanied him to the north and south poles. When Admiral Byrd learned that Igloo was suffering from acute indigestion he cancelled speaking engagements and planned to hasten to Boston. Mrs. Byrd wired him, however, that the dog had died and he decided to fulfill his engagements, returning to Boston a week later to bury the dog.

FARMERS WANT TAX DEMANDS HEEDED BY OHIO LEGISLATURE

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—Farmers all over the state are organizing to compel the Ohio general assembly to heed their demands in the drafting of a new taxation system.

Twenty-two sectional meetings held by the Ohio Farm Bureau are planned for the specific purpose of evaluating the efforts of the legislature to solve taxation and appropriation problems.

In every meeting the rural demand for a state income tax with relief for the farmer indirectly provided will be pushed. Meetings scheduled in the near future are April 21, Carrollton and Napoleon; April 22, Cambridge and Elyria; April 23, Somerset and Monroe; April 24, Gallipolis and Medina; April 25, Wilmington.

L. J. Palmer, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau hopes to acquaint farmers with progress made by the legislature at the series of meetings. Palmer will speak at one meeting each day and Edwin J. Bath, of Columbus, the bureau's legislative director, will speak at the other.

They will advise the farmers of steps necessary to obtain the legislation they desire.

SOME WOMEN ALWAYS ATTRACT

You want to be beautiful. You want the tireless energy, fresh complexion and pep of youth. Then let Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help free your system of the poisons caused by clogged bowels and torpid liver.

For 20 years, men and women suffering from stomach troubles, pimples, listlessness and headaches have taken Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, a successful substitute for calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients, known by their olive color. They act easily upon the bowels without griping. They help cleanse the system and tone up the liver.

If you value youth and its many gifts, take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly. How much better you will feel—and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

HEAVYWEIGHTS ARE DEPUTY SHERIFFS

JEFFERSON, O., April 23.—Ash-tabula County goes in strong for heavy deputy sheriffs and prisoners. Scales in the jail office groaned when three of the deputies and a prisoner climbed on recently. Deputy J. E. Bennett sent the hand to 291; P. H. Waterman scored 244 and Tom Loftus showed 216. Then, up stepped the prisoner, Leo Aron, and shamed all three. He took first prize with a 296.
